The Legend of Capt'n Franks

In 1975, Kitty Hawk was still years away from being a town, and a sand-washed road split the dunes. Besides the sea oats, dune grass and sand, one of the only specks on the landscape was Capt'n Franks Hot Dogs. Since our beginning, much about the Outer Banks has changed a bit, but a few things have remained the same. Here at Capt'n Franks, the same family, the same great food, and the same great service have remained a constant. These things are at the heart of the tradition that is our restaurant.

Here, we measure our success one hot dog, and one satisfied customer at a time! Thank you for your visit whether this is your first or your one-hundredth. You can be sure that we will strive to make your Capt'n Franks experience one that puts a smile on your face...we love smiles!

All the Best,
Capt'n Frank
